Polio Cases in Nation Show Sharp Increase; Now 8,000

Doubles 1948 Figures Over Same Period

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Infantile paralysis cases showed a sharp increase in some states in the last week, boosting the nation's total far ahead of 1948, a near record year.

The number of polio deaths for the first seven months of 1949, an Associated Press survey showed, is about double the total up to Aug. 1, 1948.

The survey showed approximately 8,000 cases and 442 deaths. However, data on fatalities was sketchy and incomplete in some states on the number of cases.

VISITOR HERE, STRICKEN
Kathleen Atkinson, eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson of Camanche, Iowa, a suburb of Clinton, was stricken with polio here Sunday while with her parents, visiting at the James O'Brien home, route 3, Dixon.
The child was removed to the KSB hospital and yesterday was taken in an ambulance to her home.

Many communities, fearing epidemics in the heavy polio months of August and September already have taken emergency measures. State health officials and leaders of The National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis are taking all precautions to prevent the outbreak or spread of the disease.

'Worst Years Was 1916'
The 27,680 polio cases reported in 1948 were the second highest of record but up to Aug. 1, 1948,

Motorcycle Policeman Added to Force Here

Forrest Shawyer, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety has appointed Fred Sanford, Jr., a regular patrolman on the Dixon police force as a motorcycle officer.

Sanford assumes the duties of Joe Hink, Jr., who had been temporarily functioning in that capacity.
This move by Commissioner Shawyer is a step in curbing the increased instances of speeding on the streets of Dixon.

Mrs. Lucia Haglock Quits Nurse Post

Mrs. Lucia Haglock, R.N., has resigned her position as supervising nurse at the Lee County Health Department. Mrs. Haglock, whose resignation became effective Saturday, has been active in the public health service in Lee county for the past 20 years and had been associated with the Health Department since its organization.

School Bill, Political Hot Spud, Being Tossed Around

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—The political hot potato of voting federal money for the nation's grade and high schools was tossed toward the house labor committee today by Rep. Barden (D-N.C.).

He told a reporter he planned to insist on a vote on the issue, but he was not sure when the test might come.
Some committee Democrats, eleven of whom met quietly yesterday afternoon on the subject, predicted a compromise bill would be approved by the committee. Some others in the meeting doubted this.

Prominent house members have told reporters that Democratic leaders do not want to see the issue come to an open clash this year. Some leaders acknowledge this, but will not allow newsmen to quote them by name.
The core of the controversy is whether money should be granted

State Relief Aids Cut; Fear Many May Go Hungry

Pensions, Disability Payments to Veterans Hiked by House Vote

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—An annual increase of $112,000,000 in veterans' pensions and disability payments was voted today by the house.

The bill was passed without opposition or debate and was sent to the senate.

It would hike disability compensation for veterans of all wars, raise allowances for dependents, and liberalize regulations governing determination of service-connected disabilities for World War I veterans.

The veteran's administration estimated cost for the first year would be $112,597,300. It made no estimate of the cost in subsequent years.

Here's what the house veterans' affairs committee said the bill would do:

Full Compensation
1. Provide for payment of full compensation, instead of the present 75 per cent, to World War I veterans for disabilities legally presumed to be service-connected. Estimated first-year cost, $4,691,000.

2. Liberalize the compensation schedule of all veterans suffering from tuberculosis by continuing compensation for a limited time after the disease has been arrested. Estimated cost $700,000.

Widows, Children

3. Increase disability and death compensation rates and basic rates for service-connected disability. Total disability rates would be hiked from $128 to $150 a month, with corresponding raises for partial disability. Increase the monthly payments to widows and dependent children of wartime casualties, from $100 a month for a widow with one child to $105, plus $25 for each additional child instead of the present $15. Estimated overall cost, $91,800,000.

4. Extend additional compensation benefits to dependents of veterans with a 50 per cent service-connected disability. The present schedule provides payments only if the disability is 60 per cent service-connected. Estimated cost, $15,406,300.

Bob Hope Falls Off Barrel; Hospitalized

Hollywood, Aug. 2—(AP)—There's an empty saddle out at Paramount studio today—and Bob Hope is the man who isn't in it.

Hope is in Hollywood Presbyterian hospital with a wrenched back suffered yesterday when he fell from a saddle while making a movie.

His steed was a wooden barrel, rocked by Lucille Ball as part of a gag sequence in the film.
The fall knocked Hope out. His doctor said the comedian would remain abed several days.

Anna Roosevelt Obtains Divorce

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 2—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger obtained a divorce yesterday from newspaperman John Boettiger.

She is the daughter of the late President Roosevelt.

The decree was awarded in the Maricopa county superior court. The hearing lasted less than 15 minutes.

Mrs. Boettiger was given custody of a son, John, 10, and $100 monthly for his support. She did not seek alimony and the divorce complaint stated that a property settlement had been made.

Mrs. Boettiger, 43, also had two children by her previous marriage to Curtis Dall, New York broker.

Boettiger, 49, is now a vice-president of the Theodor Swanson and Co., public relations firm. He formerly was publisher of the Arizona Times, Phoenix afternoon daily newspaper, and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

IRON LUNG MOTHER DIES—Covington, Ky., Aug. 2—(AP)—Mrs. Robert G. Davis, 24-year-old iron lung mother, died yesterday.
Infantile paralysis killed the Covington woman 24 hours after she gave birth to a girl in an iron lung at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Hospital attendants said five-pound, four-ounce Margaret Mathilda was "doing fine."

Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband and two other daughters, Carol Ann, 1, and Linda, 2.

Robert G. Davis (picture at left) dons a mask to visit his 24-year-old wife shortly after she gave birth to a healthy baby girl though in an iron lung for polio treatment. She was stricken with the disease the day before the birth, but her condition was not serious. At right, Sister Dorothy of St. Elizabeth hospital in Covington, Ky., holds the day-old girl born to Mrs. Davis in the iron lung.

Okeh Arms for Europe, Protect Growing Generations, Is Plea

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman, the Marshall plan's roving ambassador in Europe, today urged congress to approve the administration's foreign arms program promptly "to protect the growing generation from war."

Harriman made the appeal in testimony before the house foreign affairs committee.

As he testified, Secretary of State Dean Acheson went into a huddle behind closed doors with members of the senate armed services and foreign relations committees.

Plan Open Hearings
This combined group is expected to open hearings soon—perhaps tomorrow—on the arms aid program.

Harriman told the house committee that "I earnestly believe we are winning the struggle for peace and freedom in Europe."

But, he emphasized, any delay in shipping arms to America's European allies would create doubts which might reverse this trend.

"The voices of the subversive elements, the appeasers, those who would trust 'neutrality' would rise again and have an effect on the confidence and determination

Radioactive Iodine Drink Cured Cancer, Says Ad Man

New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—I. S. Randall, New York advertising and sales executive, told today in The American Magazine, how drinking radioactive iodine, apparently has cured him of hopeless thyroid cancer.

The iodine drink is a glass of ordinary water containing a very small amount of radioactive iodine. Before the war this iodine was made by cyclotrons and was scarce and expensive. Now it is made by atomic energy plants, at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and at Chicago, and is much easier to get.

Randall's case adds one more to a small list of spectacular and almost miraculous recoveries, due to radioactive iodine drinks. His thyroid cancer had spread to his spine and shoulder bones. He discovered it when he came down hard on his heels one day and partly crushed a vertebra which had been ridden by cancer.

He had gone to the hospital to die, when the iodine drink was tried. It quickly cured his back pain. In a few months the thyroid cancer disappeared. Now he is up and says he is feeling younger and more jaunty than for years and that he has recovered a portion of his "vanished youth," that even the seams and wrinkles in his face have smoothed out.

Ten Per Cent Reduction Is IPAC's Order

Chicago, Aug. 2—(AP)—The Illinois Public Aid Commission has cut relief checks 10 per cent and child aid payments five per cent.

Some local welfare officials said the cut may force thousands to go hungry.

The IPAC cut was motivated by an increase in relief applications and fear that it won't leave enough money to last two years.

The slash is effective after Sept. 1. It was voted yesterday.

Old age and blind pension checks will not be cut.

IPAC's Decision

The reductions are administrative, not legislative decisions. The commission decided it was question of either running out of money several months before the current two year fiscal period ends July 1, 1951, or making proportionate cuts now to stretch the available funds.

Relief funds come from the state and from local taxes. Aid to dependent children money comes from the state and federal government.

Several Chicago and Cook county welfare officials said the cuts will plunge more than 80,000 adults and children into "partial

Franklin Grove Man Nabbed as Drunken Driver

William Bearden, 24, Franklin Grove, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated last night, by Police Officers Ray Wilson and Glen Camery Jr., at East Second St., and Dixon Ave.

Action was expected on the case in County Judge Grover W. Gehant's court late this afternoon.

Torti Is Fined $10. for Recklessness

John Torti, who was arrested on a reckless driving charge at 6:40 p. m., Sunday night, was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace J. O. Shaulis yesterday.

Torti was involved in a two-car, head-on auto crash Sunday evening at Lincoln Way, and West Everett St., with a car driven by Oscar Boyer, Rt. 2, Dixon. Three people were slightly injured in the collision.

Speed Charge Costs Virgil Murray $10

Virgil Murray, 344 West Everett St., paid a fine of $10 and costs, before Justice of the Peace, J. O. Shaulis on a speeding charge.

Murray was arrested on July 30, at 10:30 p. m., by Police Officers Robert McCoy and Ray Wilson, on the Peoria Ave., bridge.

Testify One Rutledge Case Juror's Mind Was 'Made Up'

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 2—(AP)—At least one juror for the Dr. Robert Rutledge, Jr., murder trial last May had his mind made up in advance about a verdict, three men testified yesterday.

They testified at a hearing before District Judge J. E. Heiserman on a defense motion for a new trial.

Yesterday's testimony concerned statements allegedly made by Emil Novotny, Cedar Rapids linotype operator, who served on the jury which convicted Dr. Rutledge of second degree murder in the stabbing of Byron C. Hattman, of St. Louis. The defense contended that Hattman had seduced Dr. Rutledge's wife, Sydney.

Walter C. Anawalt, 40, assistant Cedar Rapids postmaster; John R. Parker, 45, Cedar Rapids draftsman, and Fred W. Hann, 75, lawyer, said they had heard Novotny express the opinion Rutledge was guilty while all of them were on a bus enroute to work.

Man "Amazed"

Parker said Novotny repeatedly told them the young doctor was guilty and "I was amazed" at the way Novotny hung onto his opinion.

Before the hearing adjourned yesterday, Angelo J. Biskup, next door neighbor to Novotny, took the stand for cross examination by the defense. He had signed an affidavit for the state.

Biskup was asked whether he

Disabled Vet Aid in State Sets a New Record Again

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 2.—(AP)—For the third straight year, the state has broken records in the number of disabled persons rehabilitated and employed through its vocational rehabilitation program.

In the year ended June 30, a total of 3,513 physically handicapped residents of Illinois were placed in jobs, the vocational rehabilitation division said today.

Dr. E. C. Cline, division superintendent, said that as a result of vocational rehabilitation services, average weekly wages of these persons was increased from $14.84 to $32.94.

Included in the 3,513 are 199 veterans who were ineligible for benefits under the GI bill.

At present, the division is helping an additional 5,673 disabled Illinois residents.

which now exists," he said. Harriman, who was once the American ambassador to Moscow, added: "I believe that it is our duty to make the present sacrifices which may be necessary to protect the growing generation from war."

The ambassador spoke out as Democrats joined with Republicans on the committee in calling for more details on President Truman's request for approval of a $1,400,000,000 program to help friendly nations arm against Soviet aggression.

The Democrats, unlike their Republican colleagues, indicated willingness to take the program on faith if the details they seek are not forthcoming.

Want The Facts

Specifically, they want to know whether there is any pronounced agreement that the nations receiving American arms will use them as a team if action becomes necessary.

Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont) told newsmen he still isn't convinced that a plan of coordinated action has been worked out and will be effective.

Like other Democrats on the committee, however, he said it may be necessary to take the program on faith upon the assurances of such men as Secretary of Defense Johnson and former Secretary of State George Marshall that the program is a "must."

Expect Some Answers

"I think the answers to our questions on the subject of unified action will be given before the hearings are ended," said Rep. Gordon (D-Ill).

Gordon joined Chairman Kee (D-W Va) in predicting that the committee will approve the bill eventually in substantially the form requested by President Truman.

Republicans still insisted that something definite in the line of assurances of coordinated action be provided. Unless it is, they said, they won't be inclined to favor the program but will vote for an interim setup of about half the amount requested.

Rotary Clubs Are United in Peace Efforts

Rotary clubs in 81 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Roy A. Palmer of Ottawa, Governor of District 213 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Dixon yesterday at the Rainbow Inn, following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 7,000 clubs in their own communities to promote this objective, Governor Palmer explained, during the next three years Rotary International will spend $750,000, principally to create better understanding among the peoples of different nations. One of the principal ways in which this money will be spent will be on Rotary Foundation Fellowships which enable outstanding graduate students to study abroad for one year as ambassadors of good will. Since this program was established in 1917, 111 Fellowships have been awarded to students in 27 countries, with grants totaling more than $250,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 330,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

He said that that there is a striking parallel between the program of Rotary and the United Nations Charter, and that, since the organization of the United Nations in 1945, Rotary Clubs throughout the world have been active in the development of an informed public opinion on the objectives of the United Nations in an endeavor to make it an effective instrument for free peoples everywhere.

Governor Palmer, osteopathic physician in Ottawa, is making his official visit to each of the 66 Rotary Clubs in Northern Illinois.

Mrs. Elizabeth Downey Adams passed away Monday at her home in LaGrange. She was born in East Grove township, Lee county, June 28, 1876. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Sheryl Smith of LaGrange, four brothers, James of Dixon, Dennis of Moline, Joseph of Houston, Texas, Edmund of East Grove and three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Drew of Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Mary McEndree of Conneaut, Ohio, and Mrs. Frances Morridge of Freeport.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Buckley-Staples funeral home in Dixon Thursday morning at 8:30 and at 9:30 from the Church of Immaculate Conception at Ohio, Rev. Mazze officiating. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery at Ohio. Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Wednesday.

One Rutledge Juror's Mind Was 'Made Up'

heard any discussions on the bus of the Rutledge case. He replied: "Not in any degree—No."

Parker had testified that the Rutledge case was almost always the topic of conversation after the 29-year-old Hattman was found dead in a Cedar Rapids hotel and Dr. Rutledge was arrested at his home in St. Louis.

Farm Issue Is Hanging in Balance little itself to increase storage facilities. It has asked for bids for 50,000,000 bushels capacity. But this would house a comparatively insignificant quantity of grain.

Bumper Crop Likely

Should the corn crop turn out to be a record size $3,700,000,000 bushels, the country would have far more of this grain than ever before. Supplementing the crop will be a carryover or reserve of more than 800,000,000 bushels from last year.

Possibly half of this reserve would be turned over to the government under 1948 price support operations. Unless it acts promptly, the government would have no place to put much of this grain.

Naturally, a shortage of storage could be expected to pull corn prices below support levels again. This time, the blame would be given the administration authority to deal with the storage problem.

Brannan Plan Issue

Meanwhile, both the Truman administration and the Republicans are going ahead with plans to make the Brannan plan the big farm issue. The Brannan plan would use production subsidy payments as a means of supporting prices of perishables. Such payments, its sponsors claim, would keep farm income high while allowing consumers cheaper food.

Defeat of a trial run of the Brannan plan by the house recently speeded up Democratic party machinery for taking the program to the polls in 1950. That machinery was set in motion at a Democratic farm conference in Des Moines early this summer.

Scout Troop 88 Resumes Sessions

Boy Scout troop No. 88, after a summer vacation, will resume their regular meetings this evening at 7:30 at the Air Tite Co. on East First street.

At the meeting a Court of Honor will take place during which badges will be awarded and all Scouts are requested to attend in uniform. Parents of the Scouts are invited to attend the meeting.

Ten Per Cent Reduction Is IPAC's Order

starvation."

Alvin E. Rose, director of the Chicago Public Welfare administration, said most of the 10 per cent cut in relief checks must come out of family food budgets. Rent, light, and gas expenses are fixed.

Rose said some relief recipients will have to cut down on food by 20 to 25 per cent. He said:

Not Enough to Eat

"These people just won't have enough to eat. The food budget already is already figured down to the minimum calories needed."

"All I can do is protest and hope the governor will tell the commission to go ahead and spend the money it has."

"It's unbelievable that people should be allowed to go hungry so the state can stay within its budget."

He said a typical family of two parents and two children about 10 years old now gets $117.35 in relief. This includes $61.80 for food, $32.50 for rent, $4 for household supplies, $3.55 for utilities, and $15.50 for personal allowances and shoes.

The cut would make them $11.73 short in their skimp budget.

Double 1948 Figures Over Same Period

the total was under 5,000. The worst polio year was 1916 when about 30,000 cases were reported.

Increases in the number of cases over last week's figures were reported in New York, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The 1,123 cases in Texas did not include the number stricken in the last week in July. Official figures for that period were not available.

New York state reported 482 cases, with 353 in the New York City metropolitan area, the largest number of cases in any big city. California reported 794 cases; Oklahoma 498; Arkansas 492; Illinois 376; Michigan 370; Minnesota 362; and Indiana 240.

Although some states reported incidence was light and below last year in several others, 22 states have reported 100 or more cases each to date.

Grants Paid Out

The National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis has advanced $2,551,365 to its 40 chapters up to Aug. 1 this year, twice as much as granted in a similar period in 1948.

The outbreak in Muncie, Ind., resulted in a ban on public gatherings including funeral services. Special medical teams have been organized in New York City and nearby Nassau county. New Mexico has organized a polio committee. Many communities across the country have conducted clean-up campaigns and sprayed DDT to stop flies. Special educational radio programs are planned for all stations in Oklahoma where 312 patients are in state hospitals. Although California reported 794 cases, authorities said the incidence was only half as high as last year. In North Carolina only 79 cases were reported this year.

Hawaii Votes to Go Into Dock Business

Honolulu, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Hawaii's house of representatives last night voted to put the territory in the stevedoring business until the end of the dock strike—a move one legislator warned might mean bloodshed.

The bill goes to the senate immediately.

Under the house bill the territory government would be permitted to rent stevedoring equipment from the struck firms.

The 94-day old strike has brought about a tense situation. The islands are dependent on shipping for most of their essentials. The strikers are demanding a 32-cent increase to their prestrike $1.40 hourly wage.

In 1900, according to estimates, there were 1,527,000,000 people in the world.

By Mildred Crom and Harwood White

THE STORY: A wealthy widow, Mrs. Everson, who believes that an atomic war is impending which will end civilization and perhaps the world, has hired Mrs. Margaret Malone as cook. Mrs. Everson is feeling in a caravan of two giant trailers to "a place of safety." Also in the party are Rudy, a former disgraced movie star; Victor, an educated Filipino, and the Marchese Bellacosa, an exiled nobleman. Mrs. Malone has twice been tempted to flee, but each time has been persuaded to stay. She herself has come to believe in the nearness of catastrophe and this fear is heightened as Mrs. Everson becomes almost frantic at each delay. Then through Victor, Mrs. Malone learns that Mrs. Everson is in love with Rudy, but Rudy wants only Mrs. Everson's money.

XIV

THAT night, as usual, the caravan parked beside the road. And again Mrs. Malone could not sleep. She was pursued by dreary thoughts of frustration and hate and destruction.

The Bomb idea was the worst—it kept creeping in, against all reason. And just as Rudy had said about the beach: pretty soon a wave bigger than the rest came in, and there you were, all wet! It was very late when she finally dozed off.

The realization of motion woke her. She got hastily out of bed, fearful lest she had overslept and that breakfast would be late. But when she lifted the metal blind, it was still dark outside. She could see nothing except the blurred outlines of rock-masses, and as the road turned, the wheeling of the starsky. Her watch said two o'clock.

All the rest of that night the caravan kept on the move. And when at last dawn came, it disclosed a difference in the landscape. The desert had given way to hills and, beyond, amethystine mountain ranges, clear as glass. The air itself had changed and the ventilators distributed an aromatic fragrance.

Then, for many hours, the trailers followed unrequited roads. And Mrs. Everson, wearing a leopard skin coat, with a magenta handkerchief tied over her hair and under her chin, sat beside Rudy, giving directions.

"Where do you suppose we are?" Mrs. Malone asked the Marchese. "This feels like New Mexico to me."

THE Marchese sent a careless and disinterested glance through the blue gauze curtains.

"I do not know," he said. "Mrs. Everson is guiding us to our destination."

He put the flute aside and with a gesture invited Mrs. Malone to be seated.

"Oh, I couldn't, sir," she said pointedly.

"Sit down," he repeated. "Tell me about yourself."

She said there was nothing to tell, then surrendered to the understanding in his eyes and talked for an hour, mostly about Joe.

"We were so happy together. Always kidding each other. Never a cross word. We knew what we liked and we went after it, together. I suppose you'd laugh, if I told you the things we did. We didn't have any big ambitions—I mean we didn't want to make the headlines."

"All we cared about was enjoying life in our own way: bumming around the country in an old car, camping out, talking to people we happened to meet, cooking our own food. But most of all we had to be free."

"Joe didn't like what's been happening in the world. You see, we were old enough to remember when it was a good place to live in. I mean, when nobody could tell you what to do or how to think. Joe hated the taxes and the controls, the credit bureaus and the time payments. He believed in individualism—said it made for character. But now, he said, Americans were getting stamped out like an issue of currency, all alike.

"He hated professional baseball and he hated swing music. He said it made criminals by beating on the nerves. Joe was a funny one. I don't suppose you ever saw Will Rogers? Joe was like him. While Joe was alive I was happy. We dodged modern life and hid inside our dreams. On rainy days we liked to watch the windowpanes streaming water while we were cozy inside, drinking coffee and reading the great old stories..."

"Malone," the Marchese interrupted. "Malone! Joe was a lucky man."

"I was lucky too, sir," Mrs. Malone said quickly. "That is, until I lost Joe. Then I was the most unlucky person in the world."

"I said he was a lucky man," the Marchese repeated.

"Weren't you ever married, sir?" "Yes," he said.

A mist blurred his eyes. He fumbled on

Governor in High Praise of Guardsmen

Camp McCoy, Wis., Aug. 2—(AP)—The National Guard was characterized yesterday as "the antidote to militarism."

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson made the remark as honored guest at a Governor's Day review of Illinois guardsmen in annual summer training here.

He told volunteer citizen troops the guard has a function beyond its duties as a security force.

"That function is to add proof to the world that this nation is determined to prevent the disaster of another world war by every means," he said.

"People generally throughout the world, even unheard millions behind the iron curtain, are preoccupied with the problem of emancipating mankind from the ancient curse of self-destruction."

"I think we've made spectacular progress in this generation toward the first objective—common public understanding here and abroad that the great, all-important, unfinished business of our generation is peace."

Justice without force, he said, is impotent.

The governor said "it is part of our concept that if American civilization is to endure, without a large professional army, we must be ready to defend it. It is the antidote to militarism."

Scholarships Used as Teacher 'Bait'

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 2—(AP)—A new law increasing the number of scholarships to state colleges may help alleviate the teacher shortage, Noble J. Puffer said today.

Puffer, state registration and education director, said the extra scholarships should result in enrollment of some prospective teachers who otherwise would not continue their education. They have a maximum value of $80 a year.

The new law makes available annually two scholarships for each high school with an enrollment up to 500; three for schools up to 1,000, and four for schools of more than 1,000.

Unfilled portions of a high school's scholarship quota may be used by another school in the same county. The awards are for Southern Illinois university, Eastern Illinois State college at Charleston, Western State college at Macomb, Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb and Illinois Normal university, Normal.

Gov. Alexander Spotswood was partially responsible for the construction of the first ironworks in Virginia in 1716.

The small amount of steel made in U. S. colonial days was used mainly in bayonets, swords and cutting tools.

The Statue of Liberty is made of bronze.

No GOP Shindig at State Fair, Committee Says

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 2—(AP)—There will be no rally and speechmaking at the Illinois state fair on Republican Day, Aug. 17.

The GOP state committee canceled plans for the political rally because of the large number of infantile paralysis cases in Springfield and elsewhere downstate.

Chairman Carlos W. Campbell of Springfield said yesterday a statewide Republican meeting in the fall would be staged as a substitute. Campbell said the fall rally would be here at a date to be decided later.

Despite the change in state committee plans, Sangamon county Republicans said they would go through with a testimonial dinner for Everett R. Dirksen. The Dirksen dinner is set for Aug. 17, the scheduled date for the GOP day at the fair.

Dirksen, former congressman from Pekin, is expected to seek the Republican nomination for U.

S. senator in 1950. He has not formally announced his candidacy.

Local health authorities last week ordered Springfield children under 16 restricted to home premises, declaring polio had reached "theoretical epidemic" proportions. The quarantine order originally took in the state fair grounds area just north of the city but was modified yesterday to exclude it.

U. S. Offers Aid in Pollution Studies

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Illinois has been offered $26,078 from the Public Health Service as a start on the study of water pollution problems.

The sums is a part of the $850,000 the PHS offered the states and territories for such studies yesterday.

The PHS said the grants will not actually be made, however, until it has approved the applications setting forth specific programs.

A number of applications already have been received and are under study, the service said.

Tavern Hours Local Problem

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 2—(AP)—Tavern and liquor store closing hours should be regulated by local communities, the Illinois liquor control commission said today.

The statement is included in a letter accompanying a survey of 50 cities across the nation disclosing a wide variation in local regulations.

The commission said that Chicago ranks among the 10 most liberal cities in the country in laws governing tavern and liquor store closing hours. Four other Illinois cities are included in the survey.

Restrictions are fewest in New Orleans where the only closing hours are on election day while the polls are open. In Charleston and Columbia, S. C., taverns shut daily at sundown and are closed Sundays.

Taverns and liquor stores close from 2 a. m. on weekdays and 3 a. m. to noon on Sundays in Chicago. Taverns in Belleville and Ottawa close at midnight while those in East St. Louis and Peoria shut down at 1 a. m. during the week.

The commission said it made the survey for students of liquor problems. It took no position on closing hours other than to say it is a matter for local regulation.

Two From State in Ontario Auto Crash

London, Ont., Aug. 2—(AP)—Two Illinois men escaped serious injury yesterday when their automobile went out of control on a highway curve near Glendale. The car crashed through a fence and both men suffered cuts.

Police said the Rev. Donald R. Crocker, 37, of Champaign, was driving the car, and Edgar Haverland, 23, of Urbana, was a passenger. They are tourists.

During the year 1887 the whole world had produced only about 2,000 tons of nickel, most of it coming from New Caledonia.

By 1902, Canadian production of nickel was more than 5,000 tons.

Frank J. Cahill Was Recent Visitor in Dixon; Writes Friend

Frank J. Cahill of San Mateo, Cal., formerly of Dixon and for many years associated with the Borden Co., visited in Dixon a few weeks ago enroute home from the east. He expresses his admiration for his old home town in a letter received by a close friend recently when he writes:

"Back to normal again after eastern trip and one regret is that I did not have more time to visit more of my Dixon friends.

"Dixon never looked so good to me as on this trip and I was amazed and pleased to see the substantial residential growth in the outskirts of every direction which has promise for a good future.

"Lowell park looks better than I have ever seen it and the park board is to be congratulated both for the splendid work they have done and for their restraint from trying to improve on nature, as so many natural beauty spots have been ruined by man's efforts at improvement."

Elementary School Building
Board of Education
District No. 55
Nachusa, Illinois

Sealed proposals will be received in the offices of the County Superintendent of Schools in Dixon, Illinois, up to 3:00 p. m., on August 16, 1949 for the construction of an Elementary School Building for the Nachusa Public School.

Proposals, contract forms, plans and specifications under which the work will be done are on file and may be examined at the following places:

1. The office of Gordon D. McKee, 610 East Third Street, Sterling, Illinois, where sets may be obtained.
2. The office of Louis C. Kingscott & Associates, Inc., Architects-Engineers, 208 Elm Street, Kalamazoo, Michigan.
3. F. W. Dodge Corporation, at Chicago, Illinois.

A certified check or a bidder's bond payable to the Board of Education, Nachusa, Illinois, for the sum of not less than five percent (5%) of the amount of the proposal will be required with each proposal conditioned to secure the Board of Education from loss or damage by reason of the withdrawal of the bid or the failure of the bidder to enter into a contract of performance, if the bid be accepted by the Board.

The Board of Education reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals and to waive informalities in proposals.

No bids may be withdrawn for at least 30 days.

"FORGET IT HONEY"—Ex-Model Jean Haring, 25, embraces her husband, Gardiner S. Haring, 53, in Cumberland hospital in New York City where he is recovering from a knife wound police say she inflicted. Mrs. Haring was released on $1,500 bail on a charge of felonious assault. Haring told his wife to "Forget it Honey" during the meeting. He said the stabbing was partly his fault because he dared his wife to use the knife during a quarrel.

Mrs. Copley, Widow of Publisher, Dies

Los Angeles, Aug. 2—(AP)—Mrs. Chloe D. Copley, 66, widow of the newspaper publisher, Col. Ira C. Copley, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Copley is survived by two sons, James S. Copley of Aurora, Ill., and William Copley of Los Angeles, and a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Blenman. Burial will be at Aurora.

Nickel silver is used for architectural hardware and decorative fixtures because of its resistance to atmospheric corrosion and its ease of cleaning.

Atom Report Is Rich Book in What the Future Holds

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 2 — (AP) — The United States is like a man searching for a door marked "doom" and another marked "salvation."

This is the picture given by the Atomic Energy Commission in a 200-page report on its work.

Every six months the AEC has to make such a report to congress on its progress. The latest came out yesterday.

The first few pages are given over to the atomic bomb. Because this is secret stuff, you couldn't learn much with a microscope.

The story of the AEC's search for bigger and better bombs that would spell doom where they fall is stated almost dryly. It says:

"New and more effective atomic weapons which were tested at Eniwetok in 1948 are in production."

More Awful Bombs
Not much more than that. It was merely saying the AEC has gone far beyond the deadliness of primitive bomb that smashed Hiroshima and is making far more awful ones now.

But much of the report is like stepping into a world of sunlight and magicians.

Here the AEC tells the story of what's being done to use the atom in searching for a richer and better life for mankind.

It's a story of scientists, all kinds of scientists, plugging away in laboratories all over America, searching, searching.

There's a little section which says:

"Studying bloods in a bat's wing . . . at Argonne (a laboratory at Chicago) scientists studied the effects of radiation on circulation of blood in the wing of a small bat . . ."

"They found that after the bat was exposed to radiation the circulation of the blood slowed down, largely because broken cells and other organic debris clogged the capillary vessels."

They are trying to find out whether animals can build up resistance to radiation. If they find out, it will help humans. And there's this:

Growth of Life
"At Union college, some 1,400 mice have been used to study the effects upon growth of life, and blood, by irradiation with an . . . X-ray."

And at the "University of Denver . . . radioactive material is applied directly to the sex glands of rats to give information on the amounts that affect the reproductive system 'enough to cause noticeable changes in the physical characteristics of offspring.'"

There is a little section called "Benefits From Atomic Energy" and in part it says:

"Radiation that destroys the cells of cancer is one of the few effective means of controlling some forms of the disease . . . scientists have used radioiodine to treat people with an over-active thyroid gland, or with cancer of the thyroid."

"Surgeons have used radiophosphorus to locate brain tumors accurately during a dozen or more successful operations . . ."

"Physicians have had time to test only a few radioisotopes in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. They are broadening their efforts month by month, improving their techniques and working toward a wider understanding of radioisotopes and their uses."

"In laboratory research, radioisotopes are proving of even greater value. As 'tracers' they are helping scientists to understand life processes and mechanisms which have been only partly understood for lack of such a key to unlock their secrets."

The items listed here were picked at random from among many. It's a rich book.

Elberta Peaches to Start Moving Monday

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 2—(AP)—Illinois' big Elberta peach crop will start rolling in volume to markets next Monday, the Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange here predicted today.

The exchange, one of the area's heaviest buyers, said picking may get under way this week on weak Elberta trees.

To the south of the Carbondale area, however, Alexander and Pulaski county growers started Monday to pick Robertas—a new variety here this season, Bell of Georgia and some Elbertas.

Farm Incomes Take a Slump

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—Farm income for the first five months this year slumped in every mid-western state under 1948 totals, the agriculture department reports.

Iowa again topped the mid-western group, as well as the entire nation, with cash receipts of $869,110,000 from farm marketings. In the January-May stretch last year it had $920,296,000.

Illinois was second for five months with $665,254,000. California and Texas, the biggest farm states outside the mid-west, were third and fourth. California farm income was $653,699,000 and Texas' total was $581,455,000.

After the big four came Minnesota, $453,198,000; Nebraska, $400,556,000; Wisconsin, $377,358,000; Ohio, $341,026,000; Indiana, $339,859,000; and Missouri, $334,792,000.

The U. S. Constitution makes no mention of education, leaving this matter to the individual states.

Satira Makes New Headlines

Cleveland, Aug. 2 — (AP) — Dancing Patricia "Satira" Schmidt of Toledo is in the lime-light again.

The 24-year-old creator of exotic dances was named correspondent in a separate maintenance suit filed by a Cleveland housewife yesterday.

Mrs. Louise Ann Salupo, 31, mother of three children, said in a petition that her husband, Sebastian, 35, spent this last week-end with Miss Schmidt in Calumet City, Ill., where the dancer is appearing.

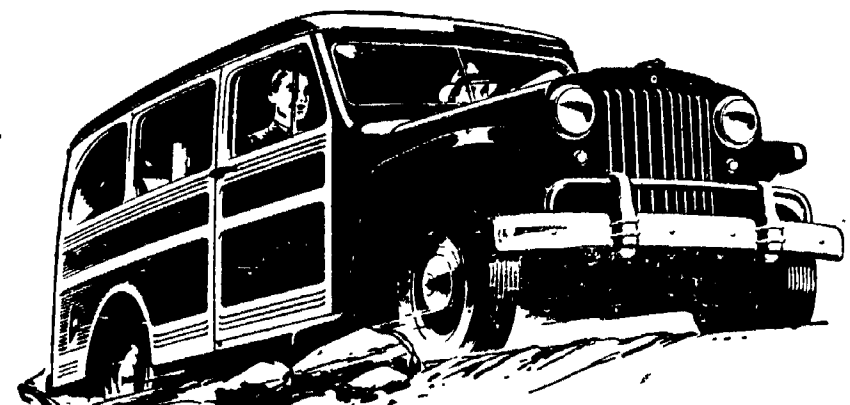

Last October, Miss Schmidt was released on a presidential pardon from the Guanabacoa women's prison in Cuba after serving more than a year for killing her married lover, John Mee, Chicago attorney. The slaying occurred aboard Mee's yacht, "Satira," as it lay in Havana harbor.

Informed of the current court action, the black haired "Satira" said she does not know Salupo and does not "recognize the name."

The Theater Is Dead, But Hal Boyle Has Some Hopes

By HAL BOYLE
New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—There is a sick thing here that won't die and won't get well. Many people love it and some fear it. And a lot of folks pay money to go and see it. This sick thing is the theater, the fabulous invalid.

The theater has had more doctors than any hophychondriac, including the renowned vegetarian, George Bernard Shaw, who has lived so long that he is beginning to be mistaken for a redwood sapling with premature gray hair.

There are a lot of things wrong with the theater. It suffers from diseases that range from low blood pressure in some seasons to high prices in any season. And I am one of those who admire the patient but would sure like to see the old girl cured.

Restrainted Optimist
I don't expect this to happen in my time, as I am a restrained optimist. Part of this is probably pure personal pique. For example, I met a fellow the other night who bragged he had been to see "South Pacific" twice, whereas I, a citizen of the average moral cunning and still two jumps ahead of Section 77-B of the Bankruptcy Act, am yet foreign to this production except via musical recordings of Ezio Pinca's enchanting evening with Mary Martin.

It isn't as if I can't get a couple of ducats to this particular musical show, because I can. I have been promised them—for the usual box office price.

The only catch is that I have a three-year apartment lease. By the time the tickets come through I may be living in Bangkok, Siam. This is what I think is the big trouble with the theater today.

Man Is Fined as He Kisses Wife; Violated a Rule

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—Roy Miffleton, 31, kissed his wife—and was arrested for disorderly conduct.

Miffleton and his wife Eleanor joined some friends for an outing at Mayo beach, on Chesapeake Bay, yesterday.

According to Miffleton, here's what happened near the end of the outing:

Mrs. Miffleton went into the bath house and changed from her swim suit. When she came out Miffleton kissed her. Lightly, on one cheek.

This was in full view of the two Miffleton children, Edward, 12, and Arlene, 6, who approved. And Mrs. Mary Trabing, wife of the resort owner, who didn't.

No kissing on this beach, said Mrs. Trabing.

Then, said Mrs. Trabing, Miffleton told her he'd kiss his wife whenever he wanted to, and that this was, one of the times he wanted to.

Argument.

One of Miffleton's friends, John Cain, 28, defended him. More argument. Cops called.

Miffleton and Cain were arrested on a disorderly conduct charge, and each posted $12.50 bond.

Escape of Sloop Amethyst Greater Feat Than It Seems

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Foreign News Analyst
The escape of the British sloop Amethyst from the Yangtze river is more than a remarkable naval exploit and feat of river navigation.

It could, but may not, end a period of the Chinese civil war in which the Communists have borne down on foreign influences to show who is master of the new China. In this light, the escape is likely to evoke important policy signals from the Reds. Their future course as a world power may become clearer.

Meanwhile, the escape has removed the Amethyst herself from a situation which had become hopelessly fouled up in diplomatic frustration and political considerations involving "face."

The British government and navy were out on a limb with the Amethyst because of the way she got into trouble in the first place. Many Britons still are dissatisfied with the explanations that have been given for what happened. They still don't see why she had to try to take supplies to the embassy in Nanking—right through the middle of one of the largest military operations in Chinese history. From the king down British officials have indicated their joy that the Amethyst's ordeal is over.

British Not Alone
However, the British were not alone in being out on a limb. The Chinese Reds, always glad to pose as the liberators of China from "foreign imperialism," made the usual propaganda hay out of the Amethyst. It would have been better if she had been an American ship, as Uncle Sam's "imperialism" is their big hate now, not England's.

But they had the Amethyst where she was powerless, so they shot the works and charged she had "joined the battle" on the nationalist side and opened fire herself. The British denied this—plausibly so as their chief and obvious interest these days is to trade with China, not fight them.

The Reds couldn't climb down from this charge because they had made so much of it, and also had demanded indemnity for more than 250 Red soldiers they said had died under the Amethyst's guns.

Amethyst Pinned Down
To make the case completely hopeless, the Reds have no central government as such, and their local regimes are not recognized by any foreign power. The Amethyst was pinned down by Red guns, and could not hope to get permission to leave until next fall, if then.

So after the moon set Friday night her skipper nosed her into the wake of a passing Chinese freighter and started downriver. Without a pilot, and in spite of a blasted chartroom, he somehow twisted her through the sharp bends of the shifty channel, past the uncharted sandbars, and even rammed through the boom across the channel at Kiangyin.

The courage and skill this took can not be doubted.

Was Fired On
The Amethyst was fired on when she started, and again at Kiangyin. But there is nothing to show that for the next 120 miles the Reds raised a single gun against her.

It was dark and they may not have known. But most Chinese will realize that the sloop passed China's most formidable coastal defense station, at Woosung, without a shot being fired—and this several hours after she passed Kiangyin. Could Red communications be that bad?

Showgirl and Lover Nude in Bed, Slain

New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—After watching from a wire escape, a policeman shot and killed his ex-showgirl wife and a man as they lay nude in bed together early yesterday. He then committed suicide at the foot of the bed.

The dead: Patrolman William R. Lane, 30, of Brooklyn; his wife, Blanche, 28, a waitress, from whom he had been estranged for eight months; and Arnold Myers, 37, a carpenter with a wife and two sons.

The triple shooting occurred in the Brooklyn home of Mrs. Lane's parents where she had been living recently.

The wife's father, Emil Binder, 50, found the bodies when he returned home from work.

The Lanes were married last year. They quarreled frequently, police said, and there were several brief separations.

Police, Firemen Helpless as Bees Take Over House

Camden, N. J., Aug. 2—(AP)—You could almost hear the "bzzzz" over the woman's shouted plea in the telephone receiver.

"For pity's sake, hurry," Mrs. Helen Coffman told police. "They're coming through the ceiling, through the windows, everywhere."

The police hurried to her home. So did firemen who received a similar phone call.

There they found Mrs. Coffman and her husband, Charles, pounding away with fly swatters. Big welts covered their face, neck and arms.

Inside thousands of bees buzzed. Outside the windows swarmed thousands more. Honey fell in a slow drip from the ceiling to the floor.

Mrs. Coffman said a tree felled yesterday in her back yard held a bees nest. The homeless insects moved into the Coffman residence.

Police and firemen retreated to a safe distance, surveyed the situation and told the Coffmans they could do nothing.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A healthful hunger for a great idea is the beauty and blessedness of life.—Jean Ingelow.

Labor to Use T-H Law as Target

No competent observer in Washington looks for a new big push against the Taft-Hartley labor law until 1951. From the viewpoint of all concerned, labor's decision to wait until after the 1950 elections seems unfortunate.

It reflects a basic lack of maturity in the outlook of labor leaders toward the society they live in. And it casts more than a little doubt on their sincerity.

Admittedly the Taft bill passed by the senate as a substitute for Taft-Hartley fell far short of the legislation labor wanted. Yet it did represent an honest effort by Senator Taft to meet many of labor's objections to the original law.

Gains are gains. If you earnestly want them, you take them when they come, however small they may be.

Under our democratic system, if you think a law is bad, you can fight for its repeal or its amendment. It is logical to suppose that if you cannot get repeal, you'll take amendment, at least as a stepping stone in the right direction.

But our labor leaders do not accept this feature of the democratic process. In the case of Taft-Hartley, they want repeal or nothing.

They would rather have nothing than something because they believe repeal of the Taft-Hartley act is a better 1950 political issue than a sweetened version like the present Taft bill.

It is in their refusal to endorse anything less than their full objectives that union leaders show the immaturity that has marked their whole approach to labor problems.

In the whole long record of testimony leading up to and beyond the Taft-Hartley law, there is no real evidence that labor officials recognize they have duties and responsibilities as well as rights and privileges.

They have consistently declined to admit anything serious could possibly be wrong in labor's household. They have insisted upon freedom from restraints of law and order that are imposed on all other segments of society.

This juvenile demand for special treatment, for exemption from responsibility toward the public is at the root of labor's decision to put off further legislative effort until 1951.

But if unions expect to fare better than they did this year they are going to have to grow up fast. And that means devising a positive program that faces the realities they have so persistently shrugged off.

Go West, Old Man, Go West!

The idea that California is the great mecca for oldsters, a sort of national old people's home, isn't borne out by population figures.

Census bureau statistics analyzed by the National Industrial Conference board show that on July 1 a year ago 21 states had a higher proportion of old agers (65 and over) than did California.

On a numerical basis, California was third in the country behind New York and Pennsylvania. These three states have the same rank in total population, so the old age figures are no surprise.

The postwar influx has helped California in this regard, for young veterans who saw the state in wartime have streamed back there by the thousands.

New growth in industry and trade has broadened California's economic base, especially in the southern area. That expansion plus climate equals a magnet which today attracts more youngsters than pensioners.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Early Polio Symptoms Vary Deceptively Among Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

The most important step in combating poliomyelitis is to make the diagnosis as soon as possible so that treatment can be begun promptly. This is particularly difficult because the first symptoms often resemble those of an ordinary cold or mild infection. Paralysis does not set in for several days as a rule.

No two patients who contract polio show exactly the same symptoms. The best results from treatment, therefore, require judgment, skill, and experience in order to choose those methods best suited to the particular victim.

Not only is medical care important, but good nursing, physical therapy and other treatments are necessary to get the best results. HOSPITALS WELL EQUIPPED

Many hospitals are now well equipped to handle patients with polio. Much of this has been made possible by the funds made available to them through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to which so many generous-hearted citizens throughout the country have contributed.

The muscular paralysis which comes on after the first few days of the disease is accompanied by painful muscle spasms. These can be greatly relieved by hot wet packs, properly applied and by nursing care. The skin tenderness which is also so common is also helped by such treatments. At the time when the disease is acute every effort has to be made to keep the muscles in the best possible condition so that they will respond to the later treatments and training. Bed rest is, needless to say, important as are the other measures like plenty of fluids, which are used for any infectious disease.

Medical science is constantly investigating the methods of treatment used for polio and trying to devise better ones. Several drugs and many other methods have a place in the treatment of the acute illness. As yet, however, a sure cure for all victims of the disease has not been discovered.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Doctor Answers

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

QUESTION: Is it true that parents who have brown eyes cannot have a child with blue eyes?

ANSWER: This statement is not true. Many people with brown eyes carry a gene or hereditary factor for blue eyes. It is thoroughly possible, and indeed has happened many times, that two brown-eyed parents will have only blue-eyed children.

IN HOLLYWOOD

By
JOHNSON
NEA Staff
Correspondent

Hollywood — (NEA) — Maybe Mr. Sam Goldwyn knows what he's doing.

But it seems to me there's no telling what will happen when the Hatfields and the McCoy's share an armrest in a movie theater.

Maybe the whole shooting match will start all over again and a lot of innocent popcorn vendors will get hurt.

Anyway, I'm going to close my eyes and hold my ears when Sam releases "Roseanna McCoy," which is all about the Hatfields and the McCoy's scarring up themselves and the hills of West Virginia and Kentucky.

I won't even be surprised if 2500 people go to the premiere and only 2498 come out. It could happen you know. It's dangerous territory.

Just look what happened when Goldwyn advertised for a matrimonial-minded Hatfield and a McCoy to come to Hollywood for a wedding with all the trimmings, plus a round-the-world trip for a honeymoon.

Sam, who never misses a trick, figured it was a right smart publicity stunt.

One Merlin McCoy, 30, of Louisville, Ky., offered himself as the male candidate. He and a Hatfield girl even reached the ring-on-the-finger stage. But then Merlin advised Goldwyn:

"We had to give each other up because her father said he'd kill me if we didn't."

FAMOUS FEUD

That's a quote from 1949, not 1863. That's when the Hatfields and the McCoy's started a session of family warfare that lasted 47 years.

But both the Hatfields and the McCoy's had more offspring than killings during that time, which accounts for the presence today of a couple thousand of each clan. Also, since 1910, neither side has added a single notch to a gun stock.

They haven't exactly shouted: "Peace is wonderful." Nor have they reached the back-slapping stage. During the war Hatfields and McCoy's worked side by side in war plants and never so much as raised a wrench toward each other.

But into this tranquil terrain comes Goldwyn with a movie about one of the highlights of the 47-year-old battle, the story of the love affair between Johnse Hatfield (Farley Granger) and Roseanna McCoy (Joan Evans).

The tete-a-tete between Johnse and Roseanna caused the use of more ammunition than the two clans had expended during the entire feud. Sam says he's given painstaking attention toward giving both sides of the story.

But it's just possible that the part in the hair of one of the Hollywood character actors playing a Hatfield may not set just right with the McCoy's.

KEPT 'EM APART

Goldwyn has already chanced a few showings for descendants of the two clans, but he said he was careful not to mix them up at a single screening. Separately, they didn't seem to object too much to the way their ancestors were pictured.

How's about lining up a Hatfield and a McCoy as contestants on a radio quiz show?

The results of that ought to give Goldwyn a fair inkling of what to expect.

It was in 1863 that Abe Lincoln had two civil wars on his hands when Kentucky's home guard lined up with the Union. West Virginia sided with the Confederacy and David Anse Hatfield reportedly leveled his sights on one Harmon McCoy.

That started it. In 1887, Gov. Simon Bolivar Buckner, to win the McCoy votes, tried to bring the Hatfields to justice. The latter clan organized a band of vigilantes and parties on both sides but the dust in a vicious outburst of feuding.

The whole thing finally ended up in the U. S. Supreme Court, which upheld Kentucky in declaring the arrests to be legal.

A Hatfield named Cap took it upon himself to play the dove of peace in 1891, sending a letter to a McCoy newspaper and asking for a cessation of hostilities. His offer was accepted and for five years everything was quiet. Whereupon, this same Cap Hatfield dropped Floyd McCoy in his tracks with a single shot and started the whole thing over again.

But as I say, maybe Mr. Goldwyn knows what he's doing.

Stacy Harris, famous on the air as "Special Agent Jim Taylor" on ABC's top detective show, "This Is Your FBI," just signed a long-term contract with Paramount. His first role will be a gangster in 'Alan Ladd's picture, "Postal Inspector."

More double-bill confusion: "Ma and Pa Kettle" and "Life of Riley" are being double-billed. Richard Long and Meg Randall provide the love interest in both films. They get married in the first film and start romancing all over again in the second.

Getting Into the Act

Q-What percentage of the American people live in the West?

A—Forty per cent of the nation's land and 35 per cent of its natural resources are in the West, yet only 14 per cent of the American people live in this region.

Q-How many records did Ty Cobb hold when he retired?

A—Ty Cobb held 90 records when he retired. In 1936, when sports writers of the entire nation were asked to pick the names of the ten leading figures in the game for Cooperstown's Hall of Fame, Cobb led his closest rival, Babe Ruth, by seven votes.

Q-Where is the highest light maintained by the U. S. Coast Guard?

A—It is the light on top of the island of Lenua, Hawaiian Islands. This light is 707 feet above the level of the sea.

Q-How many calories are figured in field rations for U. S. soldiers?

A—Field rations are figured to supply 5000 calories a day to each man.

Q-In what country are the Andes Mountains the highest?

A—The Andes reach their greatest general height—more than 19,000 feet—in Peru. The highest peak, Mt. Aconcagua, is in Argentina.

America's Card Authority

During the last war, with the aid of the bridge players of the nation and top ranking officers of the armed forces, I organized War Orphans Scholarships, Inc. I am happy to say that this organization today is providing educational opportunities for the children of America's war heroes. In our anxiety to help the unfortunate children of Europe, we sometimes overlook some of the situations that exist here at home.

Throughout the country colleges and universities are now beginning to realize the need of helping these children with scholarships. I was discussing this situation with members of the New York Athletic Club during a bridge session. Some were surprised to learn these children do not receive any educational privileges as GI's do under the Bill of Rights.

Just after our discussion today's hand came up and I pointed out that things are not always as they appear. For example, it definitely looks as if declarer must lose two spades, a diamond and a club. But,

Couples Lose Out Spending Vacations Visiting Parents

Do young couples owe it to their parents to spend their vacation time each year visiting first one set of parents and then the other?

That's what a wife asks me who says she and her husband have done that for the past five summers.

She writes: "I think my husband and I both need a different sort of vacation this year. If we could just go off to some place we've never seen and have the refreshing experience of seeing new sights and doing new things."

"But we both know that if we write our folks that we aren't going to spend our vacation with them, they'll be disappointed and hurt."

They shouldn't be. And if they are; perhaps you should be strong enough to go ahead and take the kind of vacation you want any how.

A man and his wife owe it to themselves and to their marriage to go something new and exciting and different once in a while.

like our war heroes, he was a fighter and did not give up.

Opening lead of the king of spades was won with the ace, in dummy. Declarer realized he must try to prevent the opponents from taking their ace of clubs. He cashed the king, jack and nine of hearts, winning the nine in his own hand with the ten. Now having thoroughly convinced the opponents that he did not need a trump to get into dummy, he led the six of clubs, playing the king from dummy. East decided he would block the suit and refused to take the trick with his ace. This was the needed trick to make the contract.

Kalamazoo CIO Jury Resumes Its Talks

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 2.—(AP)—The deadlocked Shaker trial jury was called back to resume deliberations today.

The case—involving five CIO United Steelworkers officials—was adjourned Saturday morning, one of the ten women jurors, Mrs. Dorothea Smith, 53, was ill.

Judge Raymond Fox said last night that she since had informed him that she would be present again this morning.

The jury had deliberated 11 hours when she telephoned Saturday to report her illness. It was feared that a mistrial might result if she did not show up today.

Westbrook Pegler

He continues his story on Drew Pearson's leg man.
(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

New York—David Katz, alias Karr, formerly of the Communist New York Daily Worker, is a "leg-man" for Drew Pearson. Karr's wife, Madeline, had entered the White House and state department as correspondent of a small, left-wing Greek paper in New York. With these facts in mind let us now consider some testimony by A. A. Berle, Jr., a former assistant secretary of state.

Last summer when Whittaker Chambers revealed treachery in the state department, Berle was called to testify before the committee on un-American activities. He adopted the practice of locking up highly secret documents in order to prevent leaks to Drew Pearson's "leg-men."

Berle testified that in 1939 Chambers was brought to him by Isaac Don Levine, a New York anti-Communist reporter of long experience, so that Chambers could reveal the Communist conspiracy in the state department. Chambers and Levine wanted Berle to tell Roosevelt. They assumed that Roosevelt would resent such treachery, and put an end to the plot. Berle said Chambers told him it was the intention of the Communists that Alger and Donald Hiss "would not appear as part of the well-known or open Communist group" but would "simply be there and be sympathetic."

Berle Told Roosevelt

Eventually, Berle did tell Roosevelt, but nothing happened. Chambers later said Berle told him that Roosevelt told him to go jump in the lake.

In the fall of 1944, long after Chambers had tipped him off and Berle had warned Roosevelt, Berle felt that the Russians were not going to be sympathetic and cooperative. Intelligence reports, which were in Berle's charge, indicated "a very aggressive policy not at all in line with the cooperation everyone was hoping for" from Russia.

"Hiss did take what he would call today the pro-Russian point of view," Berle said. "Now that was reason for worry. . . . There was another thing that worried me. We were all trying not to tell anything that ought not to be told and there were pretty consistent leaks whenever anything went through that office. Usually, we would know about them because they would come out in Drew Pearson's column and one of the leg-men was pretty intimate in that office. Well, this was reason for caution. It wasn't reason, necessarily, for indicting the man."

Typical of Berle

This after-thought is Berle's characteristic way of pulling the rug from under himself to deprive his testimony of force.

There was a pro-Russian conspiracy afoot in the state department. Berle had long since been warned of treachery. And official secrets were leaking out through Pearson's column. But that "wasn't necessarily reason for indicting the man."

The thought occurs here that Berle watered down his remarks in fear of Pearson. General Harry H. Vaughan, by the president's orders, blocked a passport for an undercover agent of Pearson who was trying to visit Dictator Tito.

David Karr openly warned the president's secretary, Charles G. Ross, that Pearson would "blast" Vaughan on the radio for that. The advertiser who underwrites Pearson's broadcasts and the publisher who prints his column thus provide the weapons with which he "blasts" individuals for personal and financial reasons.

Vaughan was duly blasted. Robert E. Stripling, the investigator of the committee on un-American activities, helped expose Karr's Communist association and was blasted so violently that his draft board removed from Washington the best expert on Communist plotting that congress had. Even in the army, the fear persisted. Stripling was kept in the ignominious status of yardbird for months, although he had had two years of military training and was an invaluable authority on counter-intelligence.

Later and repeatedly since the war the yard bird has lectured to generals on this specialty.

Partly as a result of those pretty consistent leaks to Pearson's "leg-man," Berle and his associates saw that the ultra-secret intelligence, the intercepted foreign codes, the stuff that was called "magic," never went outside Berle's own safe.

"Other Leaks"

"I took them personally to the under-secretary, the secretary of state," he said. "Other people besides Mr. Hiss could give leaks to Washington columnists."

Stripling's part in the expose of Katz, alias Karr, actually was secondary. This occurred in April, 1943, when Dr. J. B. Mathews, the greatest American expert of them all on the historic treachery, was the chief examiner. Stripling was his assistant. Later Mathews resigned and Stripling became chief.

Mathews made Karr admit that he had "worked for The Daily Worker and other Communist papers. He also showed that during the war Karr was assistant chief of the foreign language division of the office of war information, at $4,600 a year.

"Do you speak or read any foreign language?"

"No, sir."

Not Changed Legally

"When was your name changed from Katz to Karr?"

"The name was never changed legally."

Stripling followed Karr to the stand. He said Karr claimed to have been an informer for the F.B.I. and was, told that Karr had visited the F.B.I. "once or twice" and that "they were not concerned with him one way or another as an informer."

This is the Pearson "leg-man" whose wife, Madeline, for more than two years had the usual run of the White House and the state department. Her paper was a tiny, left-wing New York Greek publication. It never had had a White House correspondent before and never has had one since. She got $50 a week. She made a trip to Greece, although the books reveal only one payment for her expenses and that for a mere $200. The publisher, Basil Vliavinos, was listed as vice-chairman of the Greek-American council, which, in turn, is listed by the department of justice as a subversive organization.

Finally, Madeline Karr was discharged by the Greek paper at the instance of John Maragon, of Kansas City, a close personal friend of President Truman and General Vaughan. The president and Vaughan wanted to get her out of the White House. They thought the relationship to Pearson's schemes through her husband was too close.

Maragon also has been "blasted" by Pearson. The chief count is that he once was a bootblack. He was, in 1909, as a lone, Greek immigrant boy of 14, he made his way to Kansas City and blacked shoes. Thus, he met Truman and Vaughan. He has been married for 23 years and has a boy 19 in a military academy. He has a modest home in Virginia.

Bob Allen Writes

A recent study of Pearson by his old partner, Robert Allen, says: "In Washington, Pearson's news sources range from right inside the White House to government clerks."

And "Pearson has always had matchless news sources within the (state) department."

In May, 1947, when Madeline Karr's number was up at the national (Greek) Herald in New York the army intelligence received an application from Madeline Karr for a job where she would have access to secret and confidential information.

Polio Insurance Swamping Companies

New York, Aug. 2.—(AP)—New York insurance brokers reported today they are swamped with applications for a new low-cost polio insurance.

The city has had 336 cases of the disease reported since July 1 and officials have described the current situation as a "mild epidemic."

Continental Casualty Co. of Chicago introduced the new policy two weeks ago. A $10 premium will cover an entire family for two years. The company pays all expenses incurred in connection with polio up to $5,000 in any one case. If more than one member of a family contracts the disease, expenses up to $5,000 in each case will be allowed.

Frank R. Sexton, manager of the local Continental office, said his staff has been too busy to count the number of policies written to date, but estimated it at about 8,000. Throughout the country, he said, Continental has issued about 65,000 polio policies in two weeks.

Clark, McGrath Confirmations Are Expected

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—The double appointment moving Attorney General Tom Clark to the supreme court and Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R. I.) into the justice department seemed today to have a clear path to senate approval.

But the backwash may produce conflicting bids by Senator Stennis (D-Miss.) and Senator Kerr (D-Okla.), for a coveted place on the senate's tax handling finance committee. Stennis is a states rights supporter; Kerr, an administration backer.

McGrath's acceptance yesterday of President Truman's offer of the attorney generalship cleared the way for the official action, by President Truman to nominate both him and Clark.

Clark's acceptance of the supreme court appointment, to fill the place vacated by the death of Associate Justice Frank Murphy, had been a foregone conclusion.

Consulted Home Talk
McGrath's decision to take the cabinet post was announced at the White House after the Rhode Island senator had consulted with his home folk about his senate successor.

Whoever that successor is, he will have to go to the bottom of the democratic list in the senate in committee assignments. Other senators may shift committees to fill the vacancies which will be created by McGrath's resignation after he is confirmed for attorney general.

McGrath, who will resign his post as Democratic national chairman as soon as he is confirmed, will leave vacancies on the finance, judiciary and District of Columbia committees.

Now "Mayor Neely"
His chairmanship of the latter group, involving the unofficial title as "mayor" of Washington, is expected to go to Senator Neely (D-W. Va.)

Senators said the finance post, however, may involve Stennis, who didn't support President Truman in the last campaign, and Kerr, who did.

Kerr sought membership on the finance committee when the democrats organized the senate last January. Others with longer service records crowded him out but he is expected to bid for the vacancy.

Stennis, however, had served in the senate 14 months longer than Kerr. By seniority rules he could claim the place over Kerr.

Even with McGrath as a member, administration supporters have been in the minority on the tax-policy-making group.

Virginia Sees Record Vote for Primary

Richmond, Va., Aug. 2—(AP)—A record Democratic primary vote of more than 300,000 was expected in Virginia today in the wake of the most heated gubernatorial campaign waged in a quarter of a century.

Virginia Republicans, holding their first statewide primary with a contest only in the race for lieutenant-governor, were expected to bring a by far smaller number of voters to the polls.

Upon the result of the election appeared to hinge the leadership of Virginia Democrats held for the last 25 years by the state's senior United States Senator, Harry F. Byrd, a former Virginia governor.

It was Byrd who threw the weight of his influence behind the candidacy of State Senator John S. Battle in the four-cornered Democratic gubernatorial race.

The other gubernatorial candidates are Francis Pickens Miller, former legislator and member of Eisenhower's staff; Horace H. Edwards, a former mayor of Richmond; and Remmie L. Arnold, Petersburg, Va., businessman and pen and pencil manufacturer.

With Arnold, Miller, and Edwards each endeavoring to amass a campaign to outweigh the Byrd influence, the Democratic gubernatorial race overshadowed contests for nomination for lieutenant-governor and attorney-general and seats in the lower house of the legislature.

Walter Johnson, an attorney from Heathsville, is the unopposed Republican candidate for governor.

Berkeley Williams of Richmond and E. Thomas McGuire of Williamsburg are the republicans in the race for the lieutenant-governor nomination.

Incumbent Lieutenant-Governor L. Preston Collins is running for re-election in the Democratic primary and is opposed by Nick Prillaman, mayor of the city of Martinsville.

Car Crash Funeral Pyre for 8 Riders

Statham, Ga., Aug. 2—(AP)—An automobile crashed off a roadway here yesterday and became a flaming death trap for its eight occupants.

A mother and her three small children were among the victims trapped in the fiery wreckage of the 1933 vehicle.

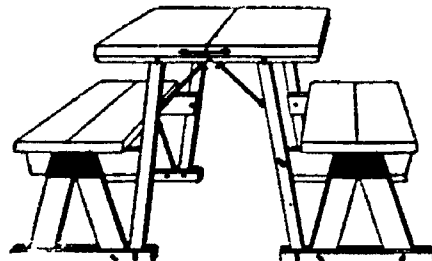

No one witnessed the mishap. Officers theorized that the driver was not familiar with the highway and crashed through an abutment.

The eight victims, their bodies badly charred, were identified hours later by relatives. Sheriff Delmar Smith listed them as:

Ollie Anderson, 28; Geneva Anderson, 15; Rise Wille Cawart, 11, and Nevada Kettle, 19, all of Winterville; Mrs. Pauline Brown, 27, and her children, Jerry Lee, 4, Joe Ann, 3, and Pauline, 18 months, all of Athens.

Garner Reunion

The 11th annual reunion of the Garner family, descendants of John Frederick, Robert Cullen and Mary Curtis Forbes Garner, was held at Chautauqua park, Pontiac, Ill., Sunday, July 31st. Forty-nine relatives were present for the bountiful picnic dinner, after which a short business meeting was held to elect officers for the coming year. Mrs. Meta Garner of McLean, Ill., was chosen president and Mrs. Flora G. Leetch of Dixon, secretary and treasurer.

A few remarks by the historian concerning family records and dates were stressed. A social program followed consisting of a group of songs by the Ingram sisters, Reva, June, Jewell and Judith of Greensboro, N. C., which were greatly enjoyed. Two sacred songs were sung by another group, a solo by Judith Ingram, a duet by Hazel Lean and Bertha Spaulding of McLean.

Those coming the greatest distance were; Mrs. W. H. Ingram and daughters from Greensboro, N. C. First Sgt. Reva Ingram came by plane Saturday afternoon from Randolph Field, Texas. This is the first time they have been able to attend. Guests were present from Potosi, Mo., Colfax, Ill., Indianapolis, Ind., Randolph Field, Texas, Forrest, Ill., McLean, Ill., Mendota, Dixon, Pontiac, Minier and Carrollton, Ill., and Greensboro, N. C.

It was decided to hold the reunion next year at Miller park in Bloomington on the second Sunday in July.

Marie Coss Bride of William Yocum Saturday, July 30

Before an altar banked with white gladioli on Saturday, July 30, Miss Marie Carmelita Coss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Coss, Mendota, became the bride of Russell William Yocum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yocum of Amboy. The double ring ceremony was performed at a nuptial high Mass at 9 o'clock in Holy Cross Catholic church with Msgr. Leo J. Wissing, pastor officiating.

A prelude of organ music was played by Mrs. Gerald Elston. Miss Norma Coss, cousin of the bride, assisted Mrs. Elston in singing the Mass. The "Pans Angelicus" was sung during the Offertory.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father who gave her in marriage. She chose a sheer marquisette gown of wedding white fashioned with a high neckline and ruffled yoke and a close fitting bodice. The long sleeves featured pleated ruffles over the hands. Tiny buttons of self covered material buttoned down to a large bow at the back of the waistline. Her train fell into row and rows of soft ruffled marquisette. She wore a finger tip veil of sheer illusion trimmed with white ruffles and pearlized orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet consisted of white gladioli and lilies of the valley and was tied with a large white bow. She also carried a crystal rosary, a gift of the bridegroom. The traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" was also carried out.

Sister, Matron of Honor
Mrs. Bruce Winans, Amboy, only sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore a gown of Lotus crepe in wedding white. The low round neckline trimmed with narrow lace fell into a drape sleeve effect. The close fitting bodice fell into draped gathered peplum trimmed in wide white lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of mixed garden flowers.

Miss Dolores Hochstatter, Mendota, close friend of the couple, was bridesmaid. Her gown, also of Lotus crepe in wedding white, was fashioned exactly as that of the matron-of-honor. She also carried a colonial bouquet of mixed garden flowers. Both girls wore white open crown picture hats of white marquisette trimmed with a large white bow and white streamers. They wore matching Lotus crepe gauntlets trimmed in white lace. Both wore rhinestone loveliers, gifts of the bride.

Flower Girls
Misses Sandra Zoeller, Franklin Grove, niece of the groom and Sharon Flaherty, Arlington, cousin of the bride were flower girls. Both little girls wore matching floor-length dresses of pastel green organza trimmed in white eyelet embroidery. They carried identical white colonial bouquets, trimmed with green ribbons. They wore small white flowers and fern in their hair.

Robert Zoeller, Franklin Grove, nephew of the groom served as ring bearer. He was attired in a white suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed in Alencian lace and white satin ribbons.

Harold Zoeller, Franklin Grove, brother-in-law of the groom served as best man. Ushers were Richard Flessner and Bruce Winans, Amboy, friends of the couple. Men of the bridal party wore light summer suits and wore white carnation boutonnières.

The mother of the bride wore a white and brown dress of sheer bemberg with matching accessories. Mrs. Yocum, mother of the groom, wore an aqua and white print bemberg with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Following the wedding a three course dinner was served to the bridal party and immediate families in the home of Mrs. John A. Eckard, Mendota. The bridal table was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of green and white with bouquets of mixed garden flowers and lighted tapers and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The servers all cousins of the bride, were Misses Genevieve Flaherty, Arlington, Norma Coss, Mendota and Eleanor Coss, Seneca.

A reception was held later that afternoon in the home of the bride's parents. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with white tapers in crystal holders and garden flowers.

Following the reception the young couple departed on a honeymoon in the east. For traveling, the new Mrs. Yocum wore a tailored suit of black and white corse with black and white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Upon their return they will reside in Amboy.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Parochial School and St. Joseph's Commercial, Peru and Sacred Heart Academy, Springfield, Ill. She was employed as a stenographer in the offices of Tower's, Inc., Mendota.

The groom is a graduate of the Franklin Grove and Amboy schools and is a veteran of World War II having served with the U. S. navy. He is employed as a line-man with the Farmers Telephone Company in Amboy.

Kitchen Kuties!

A small white turnip, peeled and diced, gives a tangy flavor to an ordinary vegetable soup. Add a bouquet of herbs to the soup, too; you can make it by tying a bay leaf, a celery top, a sprig of parsley, and one of thyme together. Remove the "bouquet" before serving.

A good way to use up a little leftover rice is to put it into an omelet—about half a cup to a two-egg puffy omelet. Serve with hot biscuits and currant jelly or peach preserves.

Dry mustard and celery salt, as well as salt and freshly ground pepper, are excellent seasonings for stuffed eggs. After mashing the yolks with these seasonings moisten with a little mayonnaise. These eggs are good served with salad greens and sliced tomato, as a first course.

Before frying eggplant slices in deep fat, dip them in beaten egg and then in well-seasoned fine dry bread crumbs. Serve the slices with tomato sauce and a green salad for luncheon.

Many people enjoy a "hot" curry in summer. Make the curry of chicken or shrimp and serve it with as many of the following accompaniments as you have available: fresh pineapple chutney, shredded fresh or moist canned coconut, peanuts (whole or ground), onion and tomato relish, raisins, pickled watermelon rind.

A good way to use the liquid leftover from sweet pickles is to heat it to boiling point and then pour it over cooked, thinly sliced beets. The beets should be left in the liquid as they cool, and then refrigerated.

DELAYED HONEYMOON

Novelist Kathleen Winsor, who came into the public eye when she wrote "Forever Amber," waves farewell with her husband, as they leave New York's International Airport for a honeymoon in Rome. He's Arnold Krakower, a New York attorney. They were married last April and said they wanted to visit Rome because "everybody" seems to be going to Rome these days.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR LIGHTED SOFTBALL PARK!

Predicts Some Colleges To Be Cited by NCAA

By JOSEPH B. KELLEY
(Basting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)
Boston, Aug. 2—(AP)—At least a half dozen of some 160 college athletic powers which subscribe to the NCAA "sanity code" are in for a rude shock Aug. 12.

On that day from Chicago they will be cited for violations of the code governing athletic policies. The rebukes developed after last week's meeting of college athletic commissioners at New Castle, N. H.

Generally, the NCAA compliance committee is enthusiastic about conditions in intercollegiate sports. Tennis intimates hereabouts believe one berth on the United States Davis Cup team will be determined by the showings of Frankie Parker and Pancho Gonzalez in the coming play at Newport, R. I., Casino, the better man winning.

Red Sox players and coaches think Cleveland Outfielder Bob Kennedy has a good throwing arm as any outfielder they've ever seen and that goes for those who saw Bob Muesel. Satchel Paige insists a fast ball is the best pitch. "Curve's only a fooler," says Satch.

Yuh gotta be smart, though, Yuh gotta watch the good hitters. They step outta the box and get in again with their feet different. And yuh gotta throw that fast ball where ya want it or they'll hurt. But it's a better pitch than a curve. Satch will bet '90 per cent of home runs are hit on sliders and curves.

Maurice McDermott, lanky and classy Red Sox rookie left hander, is going back to school on a scholarship—by mail. Officials of a correspondence school presented the 20-year-old hurler his scholarship at Fenway park.

Just before the Cleveland Indians left New York for Boston, Manager Lou Boudreau told writers he would play first base against the Sox. Lou played short through the five game series.

Before he left town last night he said he would remain at short for some time. Asked directly "who'll you put on third?" he replied, "I can't answer that right now."

Ken Keltner made one single in 20 times at bat against the Red Sox. Cleveland Scribe Ed McCauley polled some of the Indians and they were virtually unanimous in their opinion Boudreau should play third and Rookie Ray Boone should play short.

TOPS ALL AROUND—C. M. Saunders' Bangaway is tops around the stable as well as rated favorite for the Hambletonian at Good Time Park, Aug. 10.

Bangaway Ruled Favorite in Hambletonian Trot August 10

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 2—(AP)—Although Bangaway probably will be the favorite, there is no outstanding contender for the $67,000 Hambletonian stake such as Demon Hanover a year ago.

A wide-open field shapes up for the 24th edition of the famed trotting classic for three-year-olds at Good Time track Aug. 10.

Last August, Demon Hanover, owned and driven by Harrison Hoyt of Bethel, Conn., justified the favoritism that had been his all year by running away with the riches in two straight heats.

But the railbirds following the grand circuit this year are prepared for anything when the starter gets the field away in the first heat next week.

Bangaway, from the Saunders Mills stable, Toledo, Ohio, rules the slight choice because of three major triumphs last month—the historic Dickerson cup at Goshen and the Adirondack and Saratoga stakes at Saratoga Springs.

Three other colts and four fillies are rated capable of taking down first money in the event, which is staged on a best two-of-three heats basis.

The colts are Guy Ambassador, owned by another Toledo man, O. L. Mears; Scotch Pal, from Hayes Fair Acres, Du Quoin, Ill.; and Volume, representing the Coldstream Stud, Lexington, Ky.

Heading the fillies are Martha Dovie, owned by A. L. Derby, Wichita, Kas.; Miss Tilly, property of C. W. Phellis, Greenwich, Conn.; Red Express, from the string of L. E. Lake, Colfax, Ind.; and Atomic Maid, another Hayes Fair Acres challenger.

At least 12, and maybe 17 horses are expected to face the starter next Wednesday.

Dukes Whip Tigers 20-1; Here Tonight

Princeton—(Special)—The Dixon Dukes, behind the two-hit pitching of Jim Mercer, administered a 20-1 beating to the Princeton Tigers for their third win of the season here yesterday. The game was halted at the end of five innings.

Mercer, who has pitched two of the Dukes' three victories, struck out eight.

Hitting star was Dick Kelly who whacked a homer, double and single in four trips. He scored four runs. Dave Moore and Lowell Smallwood had two each and Mercer got a triple in two trips.

The Dukes meet Rock Falls at Reynolds field tonight and then travel to Rock Falls Wednesday for a postponed game. Two more victories will leave the Dukes with a 5-7 record for the season and place them well up in the NCIC standings.

54,000 Watt Plant Is Goal of Rotary Club; Plans Get Approval of Youth Leaders

Dixon Rotarians this morning launched a finance drive which it hopes will quickly terminate in a lighted softball park for the city of Dixon.

Rotary members, after enthusiastically endorsing the engineering plans which call for a modern, Class A lighting system for the northeast section of Reynolds field, were confident that the system could be installed in time for use this fall.

Endorsement came after the plans were outlined by Harry Beard, Dixon businessman, who had been studying and gathering data for the project for several months.

It was Beard's opinion that the system could be installed in time for use this fall. Should this not be possible, "most certainly it could be in readiness for the start of play next spring," Beard said.

Rotarians, who foresee the lighted field as the fulfillment of a well-rounded recreation system for the youth of Dixon, emphasized that, although the project is sponsored by Rotary, the plan must get the support of all civic bodies and civic-minded citizens to be executed quickly.

Serving with Beard, who is general chairman, are Dick Joselyn, Wayne Prince, Hank Henry, Paul Potts and Dick Wahler. The entire membership is serving on the solicitation committee and the city has been zoned and will be canvassed thoroughly.

Ever since the project was first discussed by Rotary several months ago, it has won enthusiastic approval. Sports fans, which include many civic leaders, have hailed it as a long-awaited step forward. The lighted field (there's none in the city) would be a valuable adjunct to the Reynolds recreation area, soon also to be the site of a modern swimming pool, they point out. Thus local citizens can envision a modern sports center easily accessible to the majority of local residents.

Among those endorsing the project was the Rev. Vernon Jones, pastor of the Episcopal church here. Father Jones, who heads the Dixon Youth Center, conducted in his church, said yesterday that he was "enthusiastic" over the Rotary plans.

"It means," he said, "that our program for the youth of Dixon will be greatly augmented. I feel that it is one of the most worthwhile projects the Rotary club could have undertaken. I am confident that the youth-minded and sports-loving public will readily support this plan."

Other groups, including the Dixon Church league, have sprung to the support of the plan. The church league, which had difficulty locating playing areas for their league, earlier this year had petitioned the board of education for the use of the high school football field where additional lights could be installed in the end zone to fit it for softball play. The board found this plan impractical.

Of primary importance was the revelation that the park board has accepted the plans, will accept the field when in readiness, and will maintain the field when it is completed. It was pointed out that the upkeep of a field of this type, power charges, etc., is relatively small.

Bill to Hike Duck Stamp Cost Passes House; Representative Charges Funds Not Needed

Washington, Aug. 2—(AP)—Director Albert M. Day of the Fish and Wildlife Service accused Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio) today of making misleading and inaccurate remarks about duck stamp sales and revenues.

Over Weichel's strong opposition the house passed the so-called Duck Stamp Bill (S-1076) yesterday and sent it back to the senate for approval of minor amendments.

The bill would increase the price of the duck stamp, required annually for all hunters of migratory waterfowl, from $1 to $2. Day wrote to Rep. Stockman (R-Ore.), who had received a letter from a constituent opposing the bill.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that the Dixon Rotary club has undertaken to furnish a lighted ball park for Reynolds field, will undoubtedly be greeted with great enthusiasm by softball followers in this community.

AS A PROJECT for the local "infant" Rotary, it could not have been a wiser choice. We may mention here that when it was first broached by the board of governors through Past President Harry Kerz, the plan got immediate support. However, Harry Beard wisely bided his time, got the facts and figures assembled and voiced the whole plan at yesterday's luncheon meeting. Again it was greeted with enthusiasm.

CHAIRMAN BEARD and President Lyle Melvin have both reported that the project has received immediate public support. In fact, some contributors have already volunteered sizeable amounts of cash—which is a rarity in most fund-raising schemes.

OF COURSE, TOO, the plan has the backing of Edward Vaile, chairman of the park board, who has pledged the district to maintain the field once it gets in operation. It will unquestionably lighten the "tight" softball schedule situation now existing at all the parks. It will be possible to schedule two and perhaps three games a night for six nights a week at the new Reynolds diamond.

THIS DEPARTMENT, when it first viewed the softball situation this spring, immediately advocated the establishment of a lighted ball park. May it be one of the first to congratulate Rotary on its splendid contribution to the youth of this community. It is a workable, economical, sensible, and thoroughly acceptable plan of action. Sports fans in this area owe Rotary a debt of gratitude.

SINCE SUBLETTE of the Midwest league faces Deer Grove in a shown-down struggle at Deer Grove Sunday, they've engaged Turner Bailey, of Earlville, to do the chucking. Bert Carruthers, Ladd ace, will be engaged by the Ladd Merchants in a league play-off game. Manager Kay Glazer announced today that he has dropped Wangler and Brate from the roster in taking on Bailey. Bailey, a youngster, is being eyed by Cub scouts.

WE'VE BEEN INVITED to a corn "berli"—with chicken. That's an event set for Thursday night at the Villiger boat house (near the Rainbow Inn) and sponsored by the Lee County Sportsmen's club. We've never been to a corn "berli" and therefore are looking forward to it. Tickets are now on sale.

THE DIXON V. F. W., a team to watch in Dixon Softball league play, will meet the Rock Falls Kings next Sunday in the feature game at the Airport. Lindquists will tangle with the Rock Falls Legion in the opener.

WEDNESDAY'S LEAGUE GAMES at the Airport find the Moose meeting Nelson at 7:30 p. m. and Lakeshire tangling with Franklin at 9 p. m. Friday's schedule has Raynor meeting Lindquist and the Vets playing Nelson.

LOSE KIMBROUGH Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 2—(AP)—The Los Angeles Dons pro football team has lost Jarrin John Kimbrough, 4-31, to the lure of private business. The star full-back yesterday said he is returning to his home at Haskell, Texas, to manage a 1900-acre ranch and an oil distributorship.

U. S. Track Team Hold Finn Lead

Helsinki, Aug. 2—(AP)—United States athletes held a decisive lead over Finland as their dual track and field meet entered its second and final day of competition.

The American stars had an advantage of seven victories in 11 events to work on after yesterday's opening program. They were first in the 200 meter dash, 400 meter run, 3,000 meter steeplechase, high hurdles, shot put, broad jump and 400 meter relay. The Finns accounted for the 1,500 meter run, 6,000 meter run, high jump and hammer throw.
